

Name,

After i had Completed reading your last letter, i layed down on my bunk and started thinking very deeply about what you are going through right now, and in thinking about you, i am remembering the BUTTERFLY and the ROSE, you see my friend, a BUTTERFLY emerges from its rite of passage to wing its way from flower to flower, taking in the sweetness of life.

Like a rosebud whose petals are compressed within, you enter this lifetime with layers of experiences, waiting their orderly turn to unfold, unfolding changes all of us, ~~stretches~~ stretches us beyond the parameters we know, a part of us pulls away, a protective calyx that shields our tender and vulnerable self. Released is our uniqueness, our true self, your true self. Name, the loveliness of your spirit, guiding light surrounding and protecting you, living water nourishing you. Following your lifes plan, you blossom into your potential, radiating your souls happiness in the triumph of becoming, and as you peacefully stand in the glory of who you are, the butterfly alights to ~~take~~ take in the sweetness of your life.

Name, One of the greatest motivators of good is confidence, when you let confidence be expressed through you, you know that your not saying or doing something for the return you may get from it, with a loving attitude, you stir up good.

Feelings within yourself and within others, you are loved and loving. For just like confidence, love circulates through your mind and body, your love for yourself, as well as ~~your~~ your love for those who are a great part of your life Name. In you I have found a lovely sight, standing in the light of a lantern of wanting and needing, golden as a ~~R~~ golden as a lotus, and with a stippling visionary daring, you are inspiring me, leading me out of the halls of loneliness and into the paradise of deep longing. You are a kind of all smiling ~~and~~ and all tender woman, hopefully ~~one~~ one who will offer me the luxury of a new and chosen kind of relation. I don't want to predict the measure of your mental and emotional appetite, or ~~know~~ know what secreted and ~~secreted~~ secreted passions may rest within the breast of your mind, I only wait for you to open up and express them. I don't like ~~being~~ being repetitious, thus, the central of our involvement has less to do with us as man and woman, rather it has to do with us as individuals, with our dreams, trying to make our pinched lives grand, dreaming deeply of the stars.

Name, all I want is the chance to be a part of your affirmation of awareness, and your awakening to a new joy. I desire to be the bee tasting the honey made from your spiritual nectar and to be your abode of bliss, I am looking to you to give me the eyes in which to see into your <sup>heart</sup> ~~mind~~, I look to you to give me the eyes for work of attention into the land of your nature. For when we want something or someone, we attend to that person's growth, when we attend to Someone, we ~~are~~ are caring for that person, the act of ~~attending~~ attending requires that we make the effort to set aside our existing preoccupations, and actively shift our consciousness.

Name, I am ~~am~~ completely open to you, ~~and~~ i must admit that i am suddenly nervous, not because this is seeming a bit fast, but because i truly want you. There is a book, by a writer named James Crumley called "The Last Good Kiss", i read it years ago, i really cant remember what all it was about, but that doesnt matter, the expression has stuck with me, but until now, i ~~hadnt~~ hadnt realized ~~what~~ what it really means, it is what you and i are doing, a wonderful ride towards a special kind of sharing, the sheer egolessness of giving and receiving pleasure, there is no feeling in the world that can compare to the beginning of a deep involvement of the feeling of wanting, the desire of it, the eagerness to please, to have, to take and to give, the hidden delicious fear of 'is this the beginning of something special, all of this is what im experiencing name, you are truly taking me to a place; i am not sure where, but it is a place of free flowing expression, passion for life and all it encompasses, a molessa, right now i cant adequately articulate the essence of this place, and the aura that surrounds and permeate it.

it is said Name, that all you touch, and all you feel, and all you see is what all your life will ever be, i wholeheartedly agree with this saying, i have touched you mentally and emotionally, as you have touched me, i deeply and very passionately feel you, i feel that i can see you within my own eyes while looking within a mirror, and <sup>003383</sup> from the very depth of my being, i say to you, all of my life From this day forward will be what you are. So please take great care of my life, because I rest it within the folds of your spirit. I want you to experience the knowledge and peace that comes when you simply allow my love to flow in - around - and through your love, and remember there are two kinds of faith, like freedom, there is a kind which is easily kept, but proves not worth the keeping, and then there is a kind which is hard won. So please use this faith to help move us even closer together, and have hope in me, the very same hope that I have in you, to change, a willingness and courage to change, for our love's sake, be for me so that I can be for myself through your precious spirit, let's be together what we both are dreaming of being, which is responsive and tolerable to gain ~~the~~ the things we desire and need in each other's heart, ~~let's~~ let's use our minds to gain the greatest and most enjoyable inner freedom, Name, as I write this missive to you, while replaying in my mind the beginning of our mental and emotional embracing, a peace as of a eternal calm overflowed me, a certainty that our relationship is protected and cared for from above, all my little worries and restlessness have stilled, as we stand together mind in mind, mental touch to mental touch, in the wonderful sunshine of affection and giving, and I do truly need everything that your heart can provide me with, your wonderful personality has come to me and ~~put~~ put new life and new patience into my soul, ~~and~~ and you are truly helping to redeem my existence FROM UTTER FAILURE, Learning through your kindness what true caring means, you are helping me to be sure of the present, and TRUSTFUL OF THE FUTURE,

IF ever you feel lonely Name, Remember this, everyday is in some respects a very sad one, BUT remember what is true and that is that we both have things to be thought of thankfully now which we did not have before our ~~lives~~ ~~lives~~ lives intertwined. I hope that my part in your life is a joyous and helpful part, you have made me so worthy of your precious nature, and I approach what we share in my heart as a shrine, I appreciate your feelings for me, and in return I give you my own, true, unwavering, intense love.

I hope with the letter, I have been able to touch your heart, as you have touched me with yours. Please trust me with your happiness as I totally trust you with mine, I long to receive so much more of your wonderful love, and to share much more with you. This is my warmest love to you from me,

Sincerely

yellow nigger.
